Carers Week 2014

12th October to 18th October

Carers Week 2014 is a national celebration of the 2.7 million (12% of the population) unpaid carers in our community who care for a family member or friend. Carers are the cornerstone of Australia's mental health, aged, disability and palliative care systems. Their amazing effort is collectively worth around $40 billion.

Carers are people who provide unpaid care and support to family members and friends who have a disability, mental illness, chronic condition, terminal illness, an alcohol or other drug related issue or who are frail aged. Carers can be husbands, wives, children, friends, grandparents, employers or employees. There are well over 300,000 carers aged under 24 years in Australia. Chances are you personally are a carer, need a carer or know a carer.

There are many people in Australia who provide care and do not recognise themselves as carers. This means that these people are not currently accessing the services and supports that are available to them. Raising awareness of carers and carer issues is therefore paramount.

Anyone at any time can become a carer. Carers Week is an opportunity to educate and raise awareness among all Australians about the diversity of carers and their caring roles. Carers make an enormous contribution to our communities as well as our national economy.

Carers are an integral part of Australia's health system and are the foundation of our aged, disability, palliative and community care systems. Caring may include help and support in any of the daily activities of the person being cared for. It may include physical and personal care and assistance such as dressing, lifting, showering, feeding or providing transport. Commonly, carers are responsible for the management of medications. Carers provide emotional, social or financial support. Caring may also involve helping the person they are caring for to be organised, reminding them to attend appointments and dealing with emergencies.

Carers come from all walks of life and cultural backgrounds, and provide care for a variety of reasons. Even some of the most famous people in history have been carers - Albert Einstein cared for his wife Elsa; Queen Victoria juggled ruling a Commonwealth and caring for her chronically ill husband, Albert (though being a queen she probably had more help than most carers). Eleanor Roosevelt cared for her husband, US President Franklin D. Roosevelt when he became ill and paralysed from the waist down; poet Emily Dickinson had a life which was far from glamorous - in her early 20s she became her mother's carer when she became chronically ill and unable to move from her bed, Emily rarely left the house and she was a carer for some 30 years.

Caring can happen to anyone, at any time. Chances are that you or someone you know is a carer, or will be one day.

There is a Carers Association in every state and territory which offers services and supports for the diversity of carers in Australia. More on page 18.

Bowraville and District Garden Club

Members travelled to the Zone Day in August and guest speaker Elizabeth Swane gave her best tips for gardeners:-

- Always prepare your soil before you buy a plant
- If potting only use the best potting mix
- Mulch, never more than 2 inches
- Water plants less
- Do your homework. Look around and see what grows best in your locality
- Use your local nurseries and ask for advice if needed

Our September meeting saw us admiring Barbara Well's lovely garden. All were impressed with her healthy roses. Pat Hillery shared some plant wisdom from her little book about "Extraordinary Uses for Every Day Things"

Three that I am using are:-

1. Put ash around Hydrangeas;
2. Used tea bags placed over drainage layer when potting up and
3. Spray bird droppings on outside furniture with full strength apple cider vinegar. More next month.

October will see us travel to Nambucca to the home of Elizabeth Irvine on the usual 2nd Saturday of the month. Bring a mug, chair and your lunch as after the meeting we will visit the nursery and have a picnic. Contact number 65647039.

Bowraville United Hospital Auxiliary (UHA)

October will be a busy month for our members with street stalls on Wednesday 15th to Friday 17th then over to the Recreation Club on Saturday for our annual Sports Day. Please show your support by buying a raffle ticket or by a donation and participating in bowls or golf. All funds purchase equipment for Macksville Hospital. Café volunteers will attend the WH&S workshop on 7th and the final Café meeting for 2014 on Friday 17th October - both at the chapel commencing at 10am. Treasurer Dee's home is the venue for our next fund raiser which will be a Melbourne Cup Day with entertainment, games, sweeps, raffles, trading table and a luncheon commencing at midday. A Melbourne Cup Ladies Day is not complete without a hat competition but these have to come from an Op Shop!

Bowraville Film Society

Our postponed AGM was held in September, with results next edition. We have been in operation since the theatre opened. Originally films were shown in the foyer and screened onto the wall. When we became more formal Lisa Milner was the president for 5 years, followed by our present president, Cindy Malsem (also of 5 years) who is leaving the district. Thank you Cindy for your enthusiasm and leadership. October will see us enjoying a 2012 French film, 'Therese Desqueyrou.'

Bowraville Recreation Club

Hottest news from the Rec Club is the introduction of our chef Charmaine who has come with a lot of new ideas. There is a self-service bar when Charmaine is not in the club. In a cosy corner there is a lounge with TV and toys, just great for the children. In addition to the usual Midday Bistro and Friday Night Dinners you can now have a variety of breakfast meals on a Sunday. Charmaine will also cater for private events.

On the sporting field women golfers have had a great season. Due to lack of players the first match was forfeited but they have won every game up to the last match which was lost and the comp ended in a draw and necessitated a play-off which unfortunately we lost on the last hole. Congratulations to all our pennant players.

Men golfers completed their championships with the A Grade winner being Gary Nugent, B Grade winner was Brian Flint and C Grade was Mike Oldham.

Men bowlers continue with their various championships. Hopefully all our golfers and bowlers will participate in the Macksville Hospital Sports Day.

Uniting Church Op Shop

Over the past couple of weeks our Op Shop, at the far end of George Street, Bowraville has really come alive. We welcome a group of new volunteers who are working hard to revamp the shop.

With the extra help we will be able to open Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 9am to 3pm.

Volunteers are welcome so if you have a few hours to spare just call at the Op Shop and put your name on the roster.

Furniture and all donations are greatly appreciated. If you require furniture to be collected contact Jim Wilson on 6564 7670 or 0416 631 627 or Mavis Ward on 6569 6137

OCTOBER PROGRAMMING at the

BOWRAVILLE THEATRE

Saturday 4th October at 2pm - The Valley Performers will present a comedy by Michael and Susan Parker and directed by Ruth Stuart. Entitled 'Sin, Sex and the CIA', it's steamy, fiery and riotous. If you have visited previous productions you'll know you're in for a treat. Show commences at 2pm, doors open at 1pm and Cafe will be open.

Saturday 4th October at 7.30pm - The Valley Performers will repeat their presentation of this very funny play so you have the chance of enjoying this at a time suitable to yourself. If you can't make either of these shows you have another chance the following day.

Sunday 5th October at 2pm - The Valley Performers will repeat their presentation of 'Sin, Sex and the CIA'. Doors will open one hour before each show and tickets can be obtained at the Theatre Box Office $20 and $15 concession. To book in advance visit www.tickethost.com.au or you can purchase tickets at Scotts Head Liquor Store, Mad Hatter's Tea Garden, Bowraville, Matilda Street Gallery, Macksville, Helloworld Travel in Nambucca Heads.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday 17th, 18th and 19th October at 7.30pm - At the Nambucca Entertainment Centre the Valley Performers will again perform 'Sin, Sex and the CIA'.

Entry is still $20 and concession $15. And tickets are available at the outlets shown above. Doors will open one hour before the show and a complimentary glass of wine with cheese will be served 20 minutes prior to curtain.

Saturday 18th October at 2pm - The Bowraville Theatre will again be showing our old Westerns, starting with a Superman Adventure called 'Magnetic Telescope', followed by an episode of 'Sergeant Preston of the Yukon', called 'Goneaway Creek', then 'Trapped' - the 10th episode of 'Zorro'. After a short interval the main feature we have is 'Trailing Double Trouble', the second film in the 'Range Busters' series, starring Ray Corrigan, John King and Max Tehune. It's a very full-on program and all for the sum of $5. This has got to be the best value in town so come and join us. Doors open one hour before the show.

Saturday and Sunday, 25th & 26th October at 2pm - The Bowraville Theatre Singers will entertain us with their beautiful singing but this time we have our very own patron, Simon Tedeschi, performing on the 'very grand' piano. It is always a special occasion for us at the theatre to listen to Simon play and this time he will be joined by Glenn Heidrich, a world renowned musician. What a treat we have in store. We are so lucky in this valley to be able to have this talent come to us and for us to enjoy. Tickets for this concert are $35 and $30 concession, or if you book a party of ten you will receive one extra ticket. Don't forget the concert will be performed on both Saturday and Sunday at 2pm. Any enquiries please ring Bowraville Theatre on 65647808.

Saturday 25th October at 7pm The Film Society will be screening 'Therese Desqueyroux', a drama made in France in 2012, about an unhappily married woman struggling to break free from social pressures. Doors open at 6pm, join members and socialise, new people are always made welcome.

Chain letters and pyramid scams

Chain letters and pyramid schemes promise a large financial return for a relatively small cost. Pyramid schemes are illegal and very risky — and can cost you a lot of money.

What to look for

In a typical pyramid scheme unsuspecting investors are encouraged to pay large up-front joining or membership fees to participate in money-making ventures. The only way for you to ever recover any money is to convince other people to join and to part with their money as well. People are often persuaded to join by family members or friends but there is no guarantee that you will recoup your initial investment.

Although pyramid schemes are often cleverly disguised, they make money by recruiting people rather than by selling a legitimate product or providing a service. Pyramid schemes inevitably collapse and you will lose your money.

In Australia it is a crime to promote a pyramid scheme or even to participate in one.

Be cautious but do not be discouraged from carefully researching other business opportunities based on commissions. There are many legitimate multi-level marketing opportunities where you can legally earn an income from selling genuine products or services.

Chain letters operate in a similar manner—you will be asked to send a small amount of money or a particular gift to everyone listed in the letter. You then put your name on the bottom of the list and send out copies of the letter to as many people as you can. The letter claims that by doing this you will receive a large amount of money or a gift in a short space of time.

In a chain letter scam you lose your money in two ways: first, you send money to the scammers who sent you the letter; second, you waste a lot of money on postage and photocopying.

PROTECT YOURSELF

REMEMBER: Chain letters and pyramid schemes may be sent to you from family members and people you trust—they might not know that they could be illegal or that they are involved in a scam.

CAUTION: Never commit to anything at high-pressure meetings or seminars.

THINK: Don't make any decisions without doing your homework—research the offer being made and seek independent advice before making a decision.

INVESTIGATE: Do some research on all business opportunities that interest you.

ASK YOURSELF: If I am not selling a genuine product or service, is participation in this activity legal?

Where did that saying come from?

To Give Someone the Cold Shoulder . . . Perhaps there is nothing more to the phrase than the idea of a cold, unwelcoming response, a shouldering aside of friendly approaches. But there is a common theory that the cold shoulder refers to a cold shoulder of lamb. A house guest who has overstayed his welcome, or an uninvited dinner guest, might formerly be served a dish of cold mutton instead of the hot roast he might have hoped for. This inhospitable gesture was intended as a hint that the guest was out of favour and would do best not to return. In the finely tuned language of manners in upper-middle class 19th century society, then, to give someone the cold shoulder was in effect to banish him from your household's social circle.

Eczema awareness

Eczema (atopic dermatitis) is a recurring, non-infectious, inflammatory skin condition affecting one in three Australasians at some stage in their lives. The condition is most common in people with a family history of an atopic disorder, including asthma or hay fever.

Atopic eczema is the most common form of the disease among Australasians and with this, the skin becomes red, dry, itchy and scaly. In severe cases the skin may weep, bleed and crust over causing the sufferer great discomfort. Sometimes the skin may become infected. The condition can also flare and subside for no apparent reason.

Although eczema affects all ages it usually appears in early childhood (in babies between two-to-six months of age) and disappears when the sufferer is about six years of age. In fact, more than half of all eczema sufferers show signs within their first 12 months of life and 20 per cent of people develop eczema before the age of five. Most children grow out of the condition but a small percentage may experience severe eczema into adulthood. The condition can not only affect the individual sufferer but also their family and friends. Adult onset eczema is often difficult to treat and may be caused by other factors such as medications.

The causes of eczema are broken down into internal and external factors.

The internal factors can include a family history of eczema, asthma or hay fever (the strongest predictor) - if both parents have eczema there is an 80 per cent chance that their children will too; particular food and alcohol (dairy and wheat products, citrus fruits, eggs, nuts, seafood, chemical food additives, preservatives and colourings); and stress.

The external factors are usually broken down into irritants - tobacco smoke, chemicals, weather (hot and humid or cold and dry conditions) and air conditioning or overheating; and allergens - house dust mites, moulds, grasses, plant pollens, foods, pets and clothing, soaps, shampoos and washing powders, cosmetics and toiletries.

We have all probably seen the symptoms of eczema and how distressing they can be especially in young children. These symptoms include moderate-to-severely itching skin (this symptom separates eczema from other skin rashes), recurring rash - dry, red, patchy or cracked skin. In infants and toddlers the rash usually appears on the face, elbows or knees. In older children and adults the rash appears less often on the face and more commonly on the hands, neck, inner elbows, backs of the knees and ankles. In addition or separately there may be rough, "leathery," thick skin or lesions which may be infected by bacteria or viruses.

However, there are many things that can be done to avoid an eczema outbreak and your pharmacist can provide a lot of advice in this area. Most importantly, the skin should be kept moist by avoiding soap and applying a daily moisturiser.

Other ways to prevent an outbreak include:

- Wear 100 per cent cotton or soft fabrics - avoid rough, scratchy fibres and tight clothing
- Using rubber gloves with cotton liners
- Have lukewarm baths and showers using a non-soap cleanser or hypoallergenic bath oil
- Gently patting, not rubbing, the skin dry with a soft towel
- Apply a moisturiser within three minutes after bathing to "lock in" the moisture
- When possible, avoiding rapid changes of temperature and activities that raise a sweat
- Removing carpets and rugs from your house (if possible) and keep pets outside
- Ventilate the house as often as possible
- Avoid stuffed toys which harbour dust mites
- Change bed linen regularly using specialized dust mite prevention covers
- Reduce daily stress

Your local Self Care pharmacist can give you more information about eczema.

Your local Self Care pharmacy also has a range of fact cards covering Eczema & Dermatitis.

Gardens, Gardening and Gardeners

Some of the best natural ways to kill weeds

BY HAND - Sure it's time consuming but if you are vigilant this traditional method is one of the best ways to ensure a weed won't be coming back. Wear gardening gloves and use a claw or sharp trowel to help you loosen the weed from the soil first. As you pull it out by the root beware of inadvertently transferring the seeds somewhere else.

MULCH - There are many different types and colours of mulch available and using it in your garden can keep weeds away. Not only does it protect against weed seeds coming into contact with soil, it also keeps sunlight from reaching any potential seeds that are already underground so they won't have the chance to sprout. Plus, it retains moisture and breaks down to enrich your soil too!

NEWSPAPER - Good for killing weeds – and for recycling – adding a layer of newspaper to your garden can help smother existing weeds and prevent new ones from growing. Wet your soil and lay down your newspaper, wetting it thoroughly again before covering it with mulch. This will not only ensure no sunlight reaches weed seeds, it'll also encourage earthworms to come and stay – and they're great for your garden!

BOILING WATER - Scalding hot water will get rid of weeds, though ones with particularly long roots may take a few applications before they stop coming back. Simply grab your kettle off the stove and pour a stream of boiling water carefully on the crown of each unwanted plant. Ensure you don't get burned in the process - wear long pants and closed-in shoes.

VINEGAR - Applying vinegar to weeds using a spray bottle or brush will prevent them from growing, however, vinegar can kill your plants too. Therefore it's important to use this method when there's little wind to ensure the vinegar is used on the weed only – not your garden plants. Keep in mind that vinegar's weed-killing properties are activated by the sun so try this method on a bright, sunny day.

HOMEMADE HERBICIDAL SOAP - If vinegar isn't strong enough to keep weeds at bay, try mixing it with sale and dish soap. Using equal parts of each, put the mixture in a spray bottle and apply it to those stubborn weeds. However, it's best to use this method on days with little wind as this mixture will kill any plant it touches. Use it with care!

CORNMEAL - Cornmeal will keep any seed from germinating – and that includes weeds. However, you won't want to try sprinkling it in your garden until you've finished planting seeds for the year and your other plants or vegetables are established. Otherwise you'll be stopping their growth too!

It is possible to get rid of weeds naturally and keep them from coming back without the use of harmful chemicals. Try one or two of the methods we've shared in our list to keep weeds from appearing in your beautiful garden!

One Thousand White Women - The Journals of May Dodd

by Jim Fergus

This novel won the 1999 Fiction of The Year Award by Mountains and Plains Booksellers Association.

“One Thousand White Women” is based, very loosely, on an actual historical event and evolves with both real and fictional characters. The basic premise of this novel (set in the late 1870s) is that the Cheyenne Indians are shrinking in number and are looking for a way to assimilate into white society.

The chief, Little Wolf, approaches the president with the proposal to trade 1000 white women for 1000 horses – an offer which is refused.

Eventually the government accepts the offer, in secret, as they realise it would be to their advantage (they want the land) so they initiate the “Brides for Indians” program. They require healthy women who are of child bearing age but as the scheme is secret, they only offer the deal to women in asylums, prisons and other institutions.

Mary Dodd is a woman born into a wealthy family who fell in love with a man ‘beneath’ her and had two children out of wedlock. Her actions and behaviour upset her family so much they had her committed to a mental asylum and had her children taken away. She joins the “Brides for Indians” program as it appears to be the only way out of her miserable incarceration.

The story is presented to us in diary entry format by Mary. What follows is the extraordinary story of Mary and her fellow ‘white brides’; their marriages and romances, Mary’s love of an army captain, the difficulties of moving from one culture to another and the ensuing conflict between the two worlds.

Out of interest I ‘Googled’ “One Thousand White Women” and found the widest spectrum of readers’ opinions – some thought it badly written, insulting to white women, historically inaccurate and full of clichés and others found it delightful and a great read. The author, Jim Fergus, doesn’t intend it to be factual. He has let his imagination run wild and penned a pleasantly easy read. I enjoyed it as being so different in both content and style. Have a go with this one!

Never Saw It Coming

by Linwood Barclay

This novel is short and full of suspense. The main character, Keisha Ceylon, is a psychic...or that’s what she tells people. She makes a living by scamming others – she watches the news for stories where people have gone missing and which might lead her to meeting the distraught family and offering her ‘insights and visions’.

Her latest ‘victim’ is a man whose wife disappeared and has done a TV appeal with his pregnant, unmarried daughter beside him. Keisha decides to pay the man a visit but things don’t go to plan. He is very sceptical (as most of her clients initially are) and even hostile towards her. She doesn’t know it but her ‘visions’ are too close to the truth thereby putting herself in danger.

I couldn’t help but feel drawn to Keisha because of her personal situation but she is a manipulative piece of work with common sense overruled by the need to make a living...never mind the fact that there are more honest ways to earn a wage.

“Never Saw It Coming” is a short novel and an easy read.

2NVR 105.9FM Your Community Radio National Finalists AGAIN

The team at 2NVR, Nambucca Valley Radio 105.9fm is very excited, and rightly so. They are finalists in the 2014 national Voxie awards in the category of 'Outstanding Small Station'. These awards are judged by experts in the Community Radio sector at the Community Broadcasting Association of Australia, CBAA. 2NVR is one of 4 finalists; submissions must meet strict criteria and for this category it includes having an annual budget under $200,000. 2NVR manages on under $30,000 per year so the station is punching way above its weight. The 2NVR entry included a written submission, an 80 minute audio CD and a one hour movie on DVD. In the past year, 2NVR has endeavoured to encourage more youth involvement, reach out to the community, provide live performance opportunities to local artists and improve volunteer facilities. The volunteer base has increased; there are now 49 presenters and many supporters, sponsors and listeners helping to keep the radio on air.

2NVR is no stranger to the Voxie awards, having won 4 in the past 3 years, including 'Outstanding Small Station' in 2011 and 2013, plus having been finalists in several categories numerous times. Some of the community radio volunteers will head to Adelaide, at their own cost, in November for the conference and the announcement of the winners.

The 2NVR team has recently been out and about in the Outside Broadcast van, attending Funkya@Unkya, The World Rally Championship in Bowraville and the opening of the new cycle path at Nambucca Plaza. We are now looking forward to attending the 2nd Nambucca River Festival.

Studio 3 Live in September was a great success with the audience being entertained by foot stomping Celtic band, Headland. The next Studio 3 Live event will be on Friday October 17, 6-8pm with the delightful Kym Pitman, BYO and a plate of food to share at this family friendly, free event.

With pure and haunting voice, Kym's songs tell stories of Australia's expansive landscapes and evoke a deep sense of ecological connection.

Kym has a special place amongst Australian singer songwriters. Her unique, gently commanding fusion of lyric, voice and musical imagery inspires an enlivened sense of presence and emotional recognition of human experience and wild landscape.

Born in South Australia, Kym's youth was spent exploring South Australia's semi-arid landscapes and her music has always been close to the land. She began performing as a singer songwriter in Adelaide's music bars and cafes as a teenager in the early eighties. Later moving to Bellingen she has recorded three albums and performed extensively on Australia's festival circuit. Kym has won awards for her songs through the Australasian Song Writing Awards and North Coast Industry Awards. As a multi instrumentalist, playing guitar, fiddle, viola and banjo, Kym's enchanting performances are a poignant journey rambling evocatively between coast, desert, gorge and tableland. She inspires hope and leaves her audiences moved and uplifted. See Kym at 2NVR, 834, Rodeo Drive, Tewinga on October 17. Everyone is welcome.

Money Matters for people on Low Incomes

Nambucca Valley Community Services Council Inc. is committed to keeping our community informed about potential pitfalls. Two very expensive types of credit are Payday Loans and Rental Schemes.

Payday Loans are used for basic living costs when times are tough but they are often hard to repay with interest rates up to 400%

When looking to the "deals" that Rent-to-Buy or Rental Schemes offer, typically a customer pays 3 to 4 times the value of the item that they sign up for.

For example:

RENTING 420L Kelvinator fridge
$21.95/week over 3 years
= A whopping $3,424

With NO guarantee of ownership at the end of the contract!

PURCHASE Same fridge through the
No Interest Loan Scheme (NILS)
$14.50/week over 1 year
= Only $745

And you OWN it from the start!!!

If you know someone in financial trouble, it is always a good idea for them to talk to a financial counsellor before getting into an expensive contract. A local Financial Counsellor can come to local town by appointment - Phone 1300 662 540

Other Options include:

- ◆ No Interest Loans (NILS) for essential household items - call 6568 2522.
- ◆ Energy vouchers
- ◆ Payment arrangements on bills
- ◆ Hardship arrangements for credit cards and other debts.

Please contact Moira Balmain - No Interest Loan Scheme Coordinator on 6568 2522, or Francine White - Financial Counsellor on 1300 662 520 for further information.

Bowraville Central School News

Meal And Music Night 2014 was a night of many firsts and a few lasts.

In early September Bowraville Central School once again held its very popular food, music and performance night.

The night started with tasty snacks of Calzones, cheese and ham toasties, muffins and milkshakes prepared by the Year 11 Hospitality students with help from younger students, Jamie-Lee Mackaway and Kalysia Gill. It was wonderful to see the great tradition of food and fun continuing under the supervision of Miss McPherson.

The entertainment started off strongly with seasoned performers Angus Smith, on trombone and Sam Goodwin on keyboard, performing the classic melody of Danny Boy. Quality performances continued with many strong acts following, punctuated by witty commentary from the nights host, Pyria Grace.

Notable firsts for the night were performances by the BCS choir, a monologue of 'Alice in Wonderland' by Keeley Finlay and vocal soloist Martikka Hunter. Saving the best for last was the critically acclaimed performance from graduating seniors Sam Shields and Tegan Simon with their unplugged rendition of 'Sweet Child O'Mine'

A strong crowd of over one hundred cheered the night on and soaked up the entertainment, with many expressing their excitement and anticipation of seeing new student performances in the future.

Year 6 Into Year 7 Transition Day

*Michaela Jones, Haley Finlay

Bowraville Central Year 6 students, along with a number of Year 6 students from around the valley, spent a day 'tasting' high school.

Students had sessions in the Food Technology Room, Science Lab, and the Wood/Metal Room. This was followed by a trip to the school farm to interact with the animals.

The students' parents attended a forum at the end of the day where they were served food that had been prepared by their Year 6 child earlier on.

All students had a fabulous time. One participant was overheard saying "it was the best day ever!!"
